Proclaiming Beauty

What's the most beautiful nature scene you've ever seen? Did you have a chance to capture a picture of it? We all have seen a beautiful vista, marveled at a perfect flower, or had our breath taken away by a mighty forest or expansive ocean. And often we take photos of these moments! During our upcoming Missions Celebration in October, we want to showcase the beauty of nature through your eyes, proclaiming that Jesus is Lord over all creation! Please share your photos. Be an artist-evangelist! If you want, share a caption or brief description as well. Send in your captured moments of nature's beauty by October 12.

Worship Seminar

Saturday, October 15, noon-2pm | Columbia Rooms

Cultivating a multicultural worshipping community can be challenging for anyone regardless where you are on the journey or what cultural background you come from. As experienced multicultural worship leaders, Ananda Bossois (Brazilian) and Jaewoo Kim (Korean-American) will share about their unique journeys, challenges, and issues they face as multicultural worship leaders from non-majority culture. This seminar is for anyone interested to learn from diverse teachers about what it takes to build a multicultural worshipping community.
